SHAMBLE FORMAT

The shamble format, not to be confused with the ubiquitous golf scramble, is also popular in charity golf tournaments that are looking to shake things up a bit. Shambles usually consists of a 4-person team, where total scores for the hole (and round) are tracked to determine the winning team.

THE RULES

- Assuming a 4-person team, each team member plays their tee shot on each hole.
- The best of the 4 tee shots (as determined by the team) is marked and all 4 players get to play their 2nd shots from that location.
- Each team member is then responsible for playing their own ball the remainder of the hole until they hole out.
- The best individual score is recorded for the team.
- This process continues through the rest of the holes and an overall score for the team is posted.
- If using golf handicaps, each player gets to deduct their handicap on the holes where they receive shots.
